Dear Church Family,

One of the most beautiful things about the Brethren in Christ U.S. (BIC U.S.) is the breadth of church expressions. As congregations gather, every worship service looks slightly different. Each body of believers is able to express its unique love for the Lord while remaining united by our shared beliefs.

We see this diversity in the visual identities of our congregations as well. Some may choose to incorporate the BIC U.S. symbol into their own logo while others create a visual presence that is uniquely their own. And while we celebrate this diversity, we recognize that our logo connects the global BIC family and strengthens our shared identity.

We created this guide to assist congregations and other entities with the process of utilizing our symbol and logos. It is divided into two sections:

- The first section provides guidelines for congregations wanting to use the BIC U.S. symbol in their own church logo. You will find instructions for creating your own logo with our symbol or, alternatively, using our standardized template if preferred.
- The second section contains guidelines for using BIC U.S. logos when referring to the denomination itself or any of its ministry entities, including the Brethren in Christ Foundation, World Missions, and regional conferences.

We hope this tool is useful to you and your congregation. If you have questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to us at biccomm@bicus.org.

Blessings,
BIC U.S. Communications

BIC U.S. Symbol in Congregational Logos

Guidelines for incorporating the BIC U.S. symbol into your congregation's logo.

Congregational Incorporation

Overview

Brethren in Christ U.S. congregations are welcome (but not required) to incorporate the BIC U.S. symbol into their own congregational logo. Doing so helps visually connect congregations within the global Brethren in Christ family and strengthens the identity and recognition of both the congregation and the Brethren in Christ as a whole.

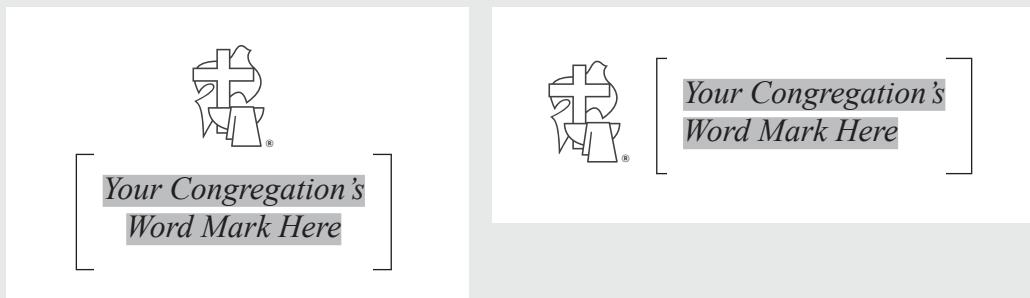

Congregations can choose between two options regarding how to incorporate the symbol into their respective logo.

Option 1: Self-Designed

Congregations may download the BIC U.S. symbol and design the word mark portion of the logo themselves. Congregations taking this approach are encouraged to seek the assistance of a graphic design professional to complete the process. Note the word mark may be in any position related to the symbol; example placements shown below.

Download file: please visit bicus.org/resources/visual-identity to access the BIC U.S. symbol file.

Option 2: Standard Design

If desired, the BIC U.S. Communications team can create a logo for your congregation that incorporates the BIC U.S. symbol using the standardized template shown below. Note the portion indicating "Brethren in Christ" is optional.

Request adaptation: If interested, please contact the BIC U.S. Communications team at biccomm@bicus.org to request this for your congregation.

Incorrect Uses

To maintain readability and brand quality, congregational logos using the BIC U.S. symbol should avoid certain alterations and uses.

Disproportionate Scaling

Congregational logos should not be scaled disproportionately (more horizontally than vertically or vice versa). When resizing, logos should be scaled evenly in both horizontal and vertical directions.

Distracting Backgrounds

Logos should not be placed on solid colors with similar saturations or on highly-detailed portions of images.
